

Stassen Accuses Hall of Trying to Force Nixon On GOP Delegates

Says He Will Continue to Fight For Herter on Ticket

WASHINGTON (AP)—Harold E. Stassen today accused Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall of trying to force Vice President Richard M. Nixon on the GOP national convention delegates without giving them a free choice.

Stassen declared he will continue to fight for Massachusetts Gov. Christian A. Herter as GOP vice presidential candidate despite Herter's rug-pulling announcement in Boston today that he will formally put Nixon's name in nomination at the convention opening in San Francisco Aug. 20.

Rumors spread here that Stassen would be fired or eased out as President Eisenhower's disarmament adviser. But White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said today he knew of no plans for Stassen to leave the government.

Stassen served notice that he is continuing his dump-Nixon campaign in a letter to 20 Republican members of the House who had demanded his resignation as President Eisenhower's disarmament adviser.

"My action would not have been necessary," Stassen wrote, "if the national chairman (Hall) had not endeavored to foreclose the choice of the (convention) delegates before they met, contrary to Republican tradition and wise practice."

Stassen created a sensation Monday by announcing he planned to campaign to get the vice presidential nomination for Herter instead of Nixon. He said polls showed that an Eisenhower-Herter ticket would run 6 per cent better than an Eisenhower-Nixon combination in November.

"Save Your Seats"

The White House moved swiftly to re-affirm its backing for Nixon. And there were widespread rumors in Washington that Stassen would get the ax for creating a squabble in the President's official family.

But some observers saw strong arguments against the President's firing Stassen. These included the fact that Stassen got—or thought he got—Mr. Eisenhower's permission to speak his mind and that the former Minnesota governor had in no way broken with the administration on basic policy.

Tuesday night—just 24 hours after Stassen had come out for Herter—Hall applied a large size pin to the trial balloon. He announced that Herter had agreed to put Nixon's name in nomination at San Francisco.

Today, Herter made it official in an announcement in Boston. He said he will be "honored" to nominate Nixon.

In his letter to the 20 congressmen who demanded his resignation, Stassen pointedly asserted that his dump-Nixon move was intended, in part at least, to "save your seats from a serious danger posed by an avoidable weakness"—namely the proposed Nixon renomination.

"I am steadfastly endeavoring to place the superb leadership of President Eisenhower for peace in the strongest possible position for November rather than have it under a handicap in the election."

He urged the congressmen to come out for Herter instead of Nixon, and said he still hopes Nixon himself will decide to withdraw and throw his support to Herter.

Democrats are Happy
The trouble in the Republican camp elated the Democrats. In a television interview this morning, Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler put it this way:

The Democrats are "sitting by on the sidelines and watching gleefully." This, said Butler, "is evidence of a split within the Republican Party."

Republican congressional campaign managers meanwhile disputed Stassen's claim that the renomination of Nixon would weaken their chances of winning in November.

Rainfall in Harrisburg from 7 a. m. Tuesday until 7 a. m. today measured .46 inch, it is reported by Harrison Kibler.

During the same period, rainfall at Galatia measured .83.

Harold DeWayne Pinnell

Harold Pinnell, 15, Eldorado, Dies of Injuries

Harold DeWayne Pinnell, 15-year-old Eldorado youth, died in the Ferrell hospital at 5:45 a. m. today from injuries received in an automobile accident Monday about noon.

Young Pinnell and five other boys were returning to Eldorado Monday from a swimming party at Pounds Hollow when their car left the highway near the intersection of Routes 1 and 13 and hit a tree.

All of the occupants of the car were injured and taken to the Ferrell hospital for treatment. Pinnell and Gordon Doney were the most critically injured. Charles Stout and Larry Burtz received broken bones and Leo Caps and Bob Turner were released following treatment.

Pinnell, who would have been an upperclassman at the Eldorado Township high school this term, is survived by his mother, Mrs. Ruth Fry, and his stepfather, Dr. George Fry.

His father, Harold Pinnell, was killed in action in Korea in November, 1950.

Other survivors include the following brothers and sisters: Otto, Stanley, Janet, Joan and Judy, and a half-brother, George Gregory Fry. Another brother, Ronald Lee, preceded him in death.

The maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Reed of Eldorado, also survive.

The body will lie in state at the Bean and Tanner funeral home in Eldorado after 6:30 p. m. today.

Funeral plans are not complete.

Find No Trace of Autos Stolen During Manhunt

There has been no trace of the two cars stolen in Saline county Monday night—when fugitives Bruno Skirmont, 37, and William Bolten, 27, made their escape from a net in the Galatia-Raleigh area, Sheriff William T. Barrett said this morning.

Officers believe the two, wanted for fleeing after their release under bonds of $60,000 in Cook county on indictments charging armed robbery of six taverns, escaped in the car stolen from the farm home of Otis Stone. It was a 1955 tan Chevrolet sedan.

Also stolen the same night was the 1950 green Oldsmobile belonging to S. A. Franks, New York Central telegrapher, parked near Muddy in the NYC yards.

Complete Oiling, Chipping of Streets in City

80 Per Cent of Unimproved Streets Given Treatment

Sneed Jordan, commissioner of streets and alleys, today said the 1956 program of oiling and chipping streets had ended with approximately 15 miles of city streets being oiled and chipped at a cost of $18,000, taken from city sales tax money.

Jordan said his goal had been set at 10 miles for the year but that he got in 15 miles. That means that 80 per cent of the city's unimproved streets got the oil and chip treatment.

Next summer, Jordan said, if the city has the same financial setup for the program, his department will oil and chip the remaining 20 per cent of the unimproved streets and resal those put down this year.

Heavy rock will be put on a number of streets this fall and winter, he said. These will be streets where the base is not good enough to hold oil and chips. "I am well-pleased with the way the oil and chips program went this year," Jordan said.

"People in general were most cooperative with our efforts. There was very little complaining from people about not getting to their streets."

Among streets that will get heavy rock surfacing this fall or winter, he said, are Capital from Lincoln north to Route 13 and Dennison street, both in West Harrisburg.

Jordan also revealed that the Mitchell Construction Co. of Herin has started the South Main and Robinson street paving project by getting grading under way. This will be a blacktop street running south on Main from McHaney to Robinson and west on Robinson to Granger.

He said, too, that the city will begin its concrete work of laying guttering and sidewalk at the widening of the bottleneck on Mill street between Gaskins and Lincoln. After this is done, he said, the street will be filled with Grade 8 rock and the public will be allowed to travel on this until the rock is packed. Then the block will be black-topped.

Jordan said that the city mow-er is being kept in operation every day mowing weeds between roads and sidewalks and added that he planned to get these weeds all over the city.

Voters to Name Board For School District No. 9

A board of education for Community Consolidated School District No. 9 will be named Saturday in voting to be conducted at Harco school.

Seven members will be elected and seven names are on the ballot. They are Horace Richey, Paul Drott, Joe Small, Ira H. McGowan, Hubert Spencer, Ralph Bond and T. S. Thompson.

Marion Boy, 13, Dies While Changing Automobile Tire

MARION, Ill. (AP)—A 13-year-old Marion boy died Tuesday while changing an auto tire here.

The boy was Carl Lavern Murphy. Coroner Adolph Fluck said an autopsy showed that the boy, the son of Mrs. Afton Murphy, suffered a ruptured main heart artery.

The boy and his mother had come to Marion to help relatives move.

No Likelihood of Civil Rights Bill, Eisenhower Told

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican legislative leaders told President Eisenhower today that civil rights legislation is practically dead for this session of Congress.

The administration-supported bill has been passed by the House and is now in the Senate Judiciary Committee headed by Sen. James O. Eastland (D-Miss.).

Mr. Eisenhower, in what probably was his last conference with legislative leaders before the session ends—probably late this week—was told by Senate GOP Leader William F. Knowland there seems to be "no likelihood" of getting the civil rights measure passed this session.

Knowland said he believes the administration will wind up with "a fair to good" record of legislation generally. He said that if the Republicans had been in control the record would be appreciably better.

Urges Postal Bill

Much important legislation sought by the administration, including housing, foreign aid appropriations, two supplemental appropriations, the social security bill, and the new military construction bill, is pending in the Senate or involved in House-Senate conferences.

President Eisenhower expressed hope that something can be done to push along the postal rate increase bill, but Knowland said there is some doubt in his mind that the measure will be approved by the Senate Civil Service and Post Office Committee before adjournment.

House GOP Leader Joseph W. Martin Jr. said he predicted the housing bill will pass the House today in its present form.

The House met early to act on the measure. It calls for construction of 35,000 housing units in each of the next two years, as requested by the administration.

A Senate-passed housing bill calls for construction of 135,000 units in each of the next three

MR. AND MRS. BERTIS MOYE and their pineapple plant in the Moye front yard near Wasson. Mrs. Moye is holding a pineapple, about three-fourths of full size, which fell from the plant during a recent high wind. Two more of the delicious fruit are starting to grow. Pineapple Plant Brings Bit of Tropics To Bertis Moye Home Near Wasson

A bit of tropical plant life is growing at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bertis Moye, about a mile south and east of Wasson.

A pineapple plant, strictly a native of the tropics, looks hale and hearty in the Moye front yard and has already produced one fruit and two more of the delicious fruits apparently are beginning to form.

About two years ago Mr. and Mrs. Moye visited in Florida and were impressed by the pineapple and other southern plants and upon their return home it was decided to attempt to grow pineapple.

Mrs. Moye said the entire core was planted, per instructions received in Florida, and after a slow start, finally began to grow and now is a fine, large healthy looking plant.

The first fruit appeared sometime back and just a few days ago, when the pineapple was approximately three-fourths full size, it fell from the plant during a high wind.

The Moyes have given the plant extra special attention. It is growing in a large container and during the winter months is carried in the house and placed at a west window to get the full benefit of the sun. In the summer months the plant is left out of doors.

Another southern plant, a grapefruit tree, hasn't done so well. A seed was planted in a bucket and quickly began to grow, but hasn't developed into anything resembling a tree, but looks more like a vine. And a third plant, described by Mrs. Moye as "just some Florida foliage" looks healthy enough and apparently will grow in this climate, as long as it is carefully tended.

But the pineapple plant is the pride and joy of the Moye household. The pineapple that was blown off the plant is kept in the house for all to see and the sweet odor of pineapple is throughout the home.

With a lot of care and attention, the Moyes have transplanted a bit of the tropics to their home not far from Wasson.

Schedule Elections To Decide Sale Of School Property

C. R. Gardner, county superintendent of schools, today revealed that elections are to be held in Saline county school districts to determine whether property not in use should be sold.

This Saturday such elections will be held at Beulah Heights and Galatia grade schools.

At Beulah Heights people will vote on the proposition of selling the site, building and equipment of Old No. 10 school, which has consolidated with the Beulah Heights district.

At Galatia the voters will ballot on selling Needmore school building and site. Needmore has been annexed to District 4.

Aug. 4 there will be two more elections. At Carrier Mills central, voters will ballot on selling New-castle and Dunbar school properties as these school districts have joined with Carrier Mills. At Green Hill school, north of Eldorado, there will be balloting on selling the Mt. Pleasant school property. Mt. Pleasant has been annexed to District 61.

All balloting will be between 12 noon and 7 p. m.

Ex-Auditor Admits Getting Between $500,000-$550,000

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—A prosecutor said today that Orville E. Hodge admitted he took part in a million-dollar raid on the state Treasury to get money for politics, investments and high living.

State's Atty. George P. Coutrakon called reporters into his office and for more than two hours read excerpts from a 176-page "confession" the resigned state auditor made to him.

The dapper politician admitted he got "somewhere between $500,000 and $550,000" through the phony check scheme, and took "100 per cent" responsibility for the scandal.

Asked what he did with the money, he said "I foolishly bought bad investments and I paid my expenses which were very high" and he needed money for political campaigning.

"I must have been temporarily insane," he said.

Hodge told in the statement how he had state checks made out to others and then had them endorsed and cashed at a Chicago bank.

Denies Hoodlum Pressure
The statement was full of contradictions, and Hodge admitted his memory was "very hazy" about details of the scheme.

"I was very busy trying to do a good job in the auditor's office," he explained when pressed for details.

Hodge admitted knowing some St. Louis area gamblers, but denied that pressures from hoodlum interests forced him into the scheme.

He also denied that he was "covering up" for anyone else, including any other politicians.

Hodge also admitted that he personally forged in his handwriting endorsements on 10 state checks cashed in May, 1955, for a total of about $80,000.

Coutrakon said he considered Hodge's statement "a confession of guilt" but not as a "full confession."

The former auditor said he did not know who made typewritten endorsements on other checks involved in the alleged million-dollar scheme. Hodge took "100 per cent" responsibility for the scandal in his office, and said in the statement "I want to absolve" Edward A. Hintz and Edward A. Epping.

Full of Contradictions
Hintz is resigned president of Southmoor Bank and Trust Co., Chicago, where most of the checks

Independence Voters Reject Proposal to Raise Road, Bridge Rate

Voters of Independence township went to the polls Tuesday and by an overwhelming majority rejected a proposal to raise the maximum rate for road and bridge purposes.

The proposition was voted down 170 to 13, it is reported, with a total of 184 votes cast. One ballot was spoiled.

The present maximum rate for road and bridge purposes in Independence township is .165 and the proposal voted on Tuesday was to raise the rate to .33 per cent on taxable property.

Herter Says He Will Nominate Nixon for GOP

BOSTON (AP)—Massachusetts Gov. Christian A. Herter said today he will be "honored" to nominate Vice President Richard M. Nixon as President Eisenhower's running mate at the Republican national convention.

Herter, 61, said Nixon "is pleased to have me do this."

The governor issued a statement in which he formally announced he would place Nixon's name in nomination for re-election. It previously had been indicated he would hold a news conference to make the announcement.

Herter's statement said: "Chairman Leonard Hall of the Republican National Committee has announced that I am going to nominate Dick Nixon for vice president at the Republican national convention. This is correct."

"Dick Nixon and I have talked it over and I am honored that he is pleased to have me do this. . . . As an early supporter of the President I consider it a privilege to make the nominating speech for this valuable member of the Eisenhower team."

Capitol police kept a close watch on Herter today because of a telephoned threat Tuesday on his life. The governor's assistant press secretary, Emanuel Goldberg, said it probably was the work of a crank but "we are taking precautions."

Only 24 hours before, Presidential Assistant Harold E. Stassen had put Herter "in the middle" by urging Republicans to dump Nixon in favor of the former Massachusetts congressman.

Asked Tuesday whether he would run for the vice presidency if President Eisenhower said he would welcome a contest, Herter replied: "I would wait and see." His first comment on Stassen's statement was that he would "do anything the President thought would be helpful to the party."

Gasoline Prices Boosted Here

The price of gasoline was higher in the area today.

Motorists who have been getting bargain prices for months began seeing the price go up yesterday as major oil companies one by one boosted their prices during the day. Last major company boosted its price this morning.

The independents, it was reported, also increased their prices.

The new prices of the major companies generally was 30.9 cents per gallon for regular and 33.9 for premium gasolines. The old prices of the majors, generally, were 24.9 for regular and 26.9 for premium. The independents usually keep their prices under the majors.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY
Your garments are moth eaten.
James 5:2.

If we are clothed in our own righteousness we should examine ourselves and see how genuine our righteousness is. We use great charity toward ourselves, but have little for the faults of others.

Political Boner

Editorial — BY BRUCE BLOSSAT

If there is one thing that most Americans would agree they don't want in their politics, it is the idea that they should be influenced in their decisions by the attitudes of other nations — or political parties owing allegiance to other nations.

But no matter how many times this is made clear, there is always someone who is willing to try again. This time it was some misguided individuals either on or directing the staff of the Senate Republican Policy Committee.

The committee prepared a memorandum which declared that the Communists want a Democratic victory in the American elections this November. The memo referred to various newspaper articles in substantiation.

This was a sad mistake, and men representing both wings of the Republican party promptly voiced their disapproval of such tactics.
Senator William Knowland of California, Senate GOP leader and a conservative, stated his view that both major parties are "devoted to the interests of the United States."
Senator Alexander Smith of New Jersey spoke similarly for the liberal wing.

Even though this country is giving to some of the freest swinging political argument on the entire globe, this device of trying to daub one party or the other with alien colors should be voluntarily outlawed for good and all.

When the late Franklin D. Roosevelt was seeking a third term in 1940, the unfortunate cry went up from such associates of his as Henry Wallace that "Hitler wants Wil-kie." The only meaning this could have had was that it would them have been unpatriotic to vote Republican.

What really was unpatriotic was the arrogant notion that in picking a President we should be concerned in any way with what Hitler desired.

Four years later, though we were in a war in which Russian Communists were our allies, a campaign effort was made to tar Mr.
Roosevelt with the Communist brush in hope it would defeat him.

In 1956, as in 1940 and 1944 and all other times, we do not care what the Communists here or abroad want to have happen in our polling booths. We are not concerned what any foreign power, friendly or hostile, wants here.

We choose a President to please ourselves. We cannot be affected if the choice we make is said also to please outsiders whom we distrust. That is just too bad. Nor can we be upset if a decision we make is displeasing to others.

The men who suggest we should give a second thought to how outsiders or subversives regard our presidential candidates simply do not understand the United States
very well.

We aren't any more concerned with what the Reds think of President Eisenhower or Adlai Stevenson than India's Nehru presumably is about Mickey Mandel's home run total.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
Lobbyists Use Closing Days
Of Congress To Sneak Passage Of Special Interest Bills; Special Attention Given To Alaska Hospital; No Attention
Given To Sneak Bills.

WASHINGTON. — The House
Representatives of the Congress of the United States was creaking slowly to a close. It had been a long day. The four-year-old son of Congressman Francis Dorn of Brooklyn squirmed and fidgeted.
He had been sitting beside his father, as an education in government, all week; and he had been remarkably good. But it was 6:30 p. m. and small boys get hungry. Two seats in front, Congressman Cecil Harden of Indiana, who has three grandchildren, looked as if she could have taken care of him, but she sat engrossed in official papers. . . .
In the Speaker's chair, Sam Rayburn, bald, placid, patient, looked over the chamber. He had been a member of that chamber for 42 years, had sat for 12 years as Speaker, riding herd on its hectic sessions, watching bill after bill argued, wrangled over, noted on, defeated or passed, to become, for better or worse, the law of the United States. . . .
The laws are made, thus the people of the United States are governed.

ALASKA HOSPITAL

Speaker Rayburn squinted from the rostrum at the machinery of democracy in motion. It was in slow motion. None of the lightning repartee and fireworks that featured debate on civil rights . . .
The momentous question of Alaska's right to build its own hospital for the insane was being debated. Congressman Leo O'Brien spoke for this right.
O'Brien comes from Albany, N.
Y., and is a Democrat. Yet he understood Alaskan problems thoroughly. He also spoke for the Eisenhower administration. . . .
At the leader's table on the Democratic side, sat Bob Bartlett, delegate of Alaska, with no right to vote, but the right to speak. . . .
Beside him sat Edith Green, ex-mayor of Portland, Oregon, now a Congresswoman. She had pioneered the hospital. . . . Over on the Republican side, "Doc" Miller of Nebraska, walked about, supporting himself with a stick, asking questions. He opposed the hospital. So did other Republicans—Hosmer of California, Gross of Iowa. . . . Dawson of Utah, Republican, didn't. "Those of us who supported this bill have been labeled traitors and Communists," he said, "but we think the mentally ill of Alaska have a right to be cared for in Alaska, near their homes, not shipped 2, 000 miles away from home." . . .
Martin Dies of Texas stopped chewing a cigar to ask helpful questions. . . . The debate droned on, the machinery of democracy at work, giving minute attention to a problem far from Washington affecting only a few hundred. . . .
The bill passed.

SNEAKY DEMOCRACY

The machinery of democracy is not always so careful. It can be fambunctious. It can go on selfish, cruel rampages. It can also be sneaky. . . . This is the time, as Congress grinds to a close, when the lobbyists stand in the lobbies ready to push across their pet bills benefiting those few who pay them. . . . The school bill, benefiting millions, failed of passage.
The equality of opportunity bill helping thousands of small businessmen, got stuck in the Senate, blocked by Welker of Idaho and Jenner of Indiana. The clean elections bill to stop the buying of elections hasn't got off the ground in the Senate. . . . But a dozen bills benefiting a few and costing millions are poised on a brink of passage, will be sneaked across in these last hectic days.

One of them would wipe out Roosevelt's New Deal banking reform, passed after the 1933 bank failures, which allows minority stock holders to sit on bank boards. The American Bankers' Association doesn't like minority directors and Chairman Brent Spence of Kentucky, prodded by White House emissaries, has suddenly been pushing for last minute passage. . . . Pan American Airways is behind another bill to prevent the government from deducting its profits on the sale of airplanes from its subsidy. Every affected branch of the Eisenhower administration has opposed this, but Pan Am has potent friends. The bill may be pushed across the goal line in the last few minutes of hectic play.

STEAMSHIP GIVE-AWAY

Friends of Dictator Trujillo of the Dominican Republic also have a ship deal they are trying to sneak across during the last minutes of play. Congressman Zelenko of New York is trying to block it. . . . The return of German property was also readied for a final push when nobody was looking, but somebody looked. It has now been blocked. . . . Most brazen sneak bill was put across by Bonner of North Carolina, who's had a good record in the past. He engineered a give-away of the McLean Trucking firm of his state which has purchased the Waterman Steamship Co., and plans to carry trucks piggy-back up the Atlantic coast on steamships. . . . Bonner's bill would permit McLean to sell ships to the government for $1,600,000 each for which it paid the government $956,000 nine years ago

It takes alert congressmen to make the wheels of democracy run efficiently. Zelenko, the New York Democrat, and Van Zandt, the Pennsylvania Republican, were alert, blocked this give-away from sneaking through on the unanimous consent calendar.
Here one vote only can block a bill. . . . So Bonner side-stepped.
He pulled back his bill, asked that he have the right to put it through normal legislative channels without unanimous consent. This was given him—but with the promise that he wouldn't put his give-away on the unanimous consent calendar. . . . But when his give-away got blocked in the Rules committee, the gentleman from North Carolina ignored his promise and sneaked his give-away back on the unanimous consent calendar. Watchdogs Zelenko and Van Zandt, who accepted Bonner's promise, weren't watching, and the give-away passed. . . .
Thus operate the cumbersome wheels of democracy—most of the time for the public good, sometimes not. Anyway, that's democracy.

Hall Provided Free

Room During Holiday

At Hodge-Owned Hotel

WASHINGTON. — Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall was provided with a free room last winter during a holiday at a Fort Lauderdale hotel owned by Orville Hodge, resigned Illinois state auditor, it was disclosed today.

A spokesman for the GOP National Committee said Hall regularly has taken a winter holiday at Fort Lauderdale and accepted an invitation last winter to stay at Hodge's hotel.

The committee official said Hall had expected to pay for his room but actually paid only incidental charges when advised by the hotel that there was no charge for his room.

Survey Shows Bride's Father Pays and Pays

CINCINNATI — (AP) — The father of the bride might as well face it — that summer wedding for his daughter will make a healthy dent in his bank balance, even if she has a "small" wedding.

A group of co-eds at the University of Cincinnati has just completed a study of costs of weddings on the grand, the average, and the small scale.

Their conclusion: about the only way to save money is to elope.

The girls, students in a home management course taught by Mrs.
Margaret Jane Suydam, found that a "small" church wedding and reception at home will cost the bride's family $188 and the bridegroom's $80. This includes the immediate families as guests, one attendant each for the bridal couple. And very few frills.

And On Up

An "average" wedding, the co-eds figure, will cost the bride's family $761, the bridegroom's $183, for a church reception, 150 guests,
and three attendants each.

The "deluxe" class permits most of the frills. A reception at a country club, 300 guests, five attendants each, and a flower girl are included in costs to the bride's family of $3,002 and the bridegroom's, of $507.

The students set up what they considered desirable typical weddings in three categories and shopped to determine average costs for each.

The marriage license was the only constant on the price lists for small, average, and deluxe weddings.

Each category covered the bride's family invitations, announcements, informals; clothes for the bride,
mother, and father; bridegroom's ring; gift and corsages for bridesmaids; church expenses of organist, soloist, sexton; reception refreshments and flowers, and photographs.

Ways To Save

Costs for the bridegroom's family covered clothes for him, his mother and father; the bride's ring, gifts for attendants, flowers for the bride and both mothers and grandmothers, boutonnières for the men; marriage license, and gift to the clergy.

Ways to save were recorded by the co-eds. Evening weddings are more formal and usually more expensive than afternoon weddings.
Summer dresses for bride and attendants cost less and garden flowers can often be used to save florist bills. Ballerina-length gowns are less expensive than full-length gowns. The girls did indicate, however, they could save by buying cheap shoes if they wore long gowns because "shoes wouldn't show."

In even the deluxe wedding, the Cincinnati students suggested male members of the wedding save money by renting their splendor, including formal tie and cummerbund, studs and cuff-links.

Mothers and bridesmaids were advised they might find a larger selection of less expensive clothing by shopping in other departments than stores' bridal shops.

A caterer told the students most people order more wedding cake than is needed. Smaller cakes may mean fewer happy dreams, but more money in father's pocket.

Cost of weddings is a subject
dear to the Cincinnati University co-eds' hearts and purse. Six of the class are brides, 16 engaged,
and most of the other 13 go steady,
"off and on."

Saline Baptist Hymn Sing Saturday At Oral Walls Farm

A summer hymn sing of the Saline Baptist association will be held Saturday at 7:45 p. m. The theme will be "By the Riverside" and the site will be the lakefront of the Ora Walls farm in the Big Ridge community.

Ample parking space and seating will be available with the BYC (youth organization) in charge of parking and ushering.
In the event of rain by 2 p. m.
the hymn sing will be held at the nearby Big Ridge Baptist church.

A mass children's choir will sing including the Harrisburg youth choir and other small groups.

Muscle committees which have served in the past year will be in charge with the Equality Mission of the Big Ridge church acting as host.

The committees include: Moderator, Clayton Humphreys; missionary, Floyd Lacy; director of music education, Mrs. G. H. Montgomery; director of congregational activities, Maynard Cannon; youth music promotion chairman, James Williams; post adviser, William Fuson; director of instrumental activities, Mrs.
Robert Keltner; treasurer and song chairman, Raymond Allen;
rose chairman, Mrs. Madge Daugherty.

The public is invited.

Soil Bank Sign-Up Extended to July 27

Farmers now have through Friday, July 27, to sign an acreage reserve agreement under the Soil Bank, Herman Driskell, chairman of the local ASC, announced today.
A change in program regulations extends the final date for signing acreage reserve agreements from July 20 through July 27.

No further extension is contemplated, continued Mr. Driskell, so interested farmers who have not yet signed up should keep this new deadline date in mind. Personnel will be available at the county ASC office in the city hall, Harrisburg, to help farmers analyze their problems and sign agreements.

Other changes have extended the dates for disposing of certain crops in order to comply with the Soil bank. Farmers with underplanted corn acreage, intending to clip oats in order to comply, now have through July 27 to complete such action. The date for disposition of corn has been extended to Aug.
3, instead of July 31, both for Soil
Bank and price support purposes.
If soybeans are growing on land designated as acreage reserve, farmers now have until Aug. 31, rather than the previously established July 31, to utilize such crop for green manure purposes.

MR. AND MRS. LA VERN ALECCI who were married Tuesday, July 3, at Tate's Chapel Methodist church by the Rev. Buddy Peyton. The bride is the former Miss Sue Tate, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Olen E. Tate of Thompsonville.

Miss Sue Tate, LaVern Alecci Wed In Double-Ring Ceremony
Mr. and Mrs. Olen E. Tate, RFD 4, Thompsonville, are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Sue, to LaVern Alecci, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Alecci of Harco.

The wedding took place Tuesday, July 3, at 7 p. m. at Tate's Chapel Methodist church with the Rev. Buddy Peyton reading the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with baskets of pink gladioli and greenery.

For her wedding the bride chose a waltz length gown of white nylon lace over taffeta designed with a rounded neckline and long torso with a full gathered skirt. She wore white accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds.

Mrs. Jane Dyer, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, wearing a waltz length dress of pink nylon. She wore white accessories also and a shoulder corsage of white carnations.

Bob Fowler, close friend of the bridegroom served as best man.

The bride and groom's parents were the only guests at the wedding. The bride is a graduate of the Galatia high school and is now employed as a stenographer at the First National bank. The bridegroom also attended Galatia high school and is now serving with the U. S. Navy aboard the USS Coral Sea out of Norfolk, Va.

Following the wedding the couple left for a wedding trip to Kentucky Lake.

Attends Reunion
O. R. Brown, who operates Brown's Army store, and his family were in Springfield, Mo., last week, to attend the first reunion by the Ozark high school class reunion from which he was graduated 22 years ago.

This was the first class reunion, but plans are to hold them every year and to invite the classes of 1933 and 1935. The picnic was held at Phelps Grove and 70 per cent of the class members were present.

Miss Mary Anne Humm Is Honored With Bridal Showers

Miss Mary Anne Humm, whose marriage to Joseph Logsdon of Shawneetown will take place Thursday morning at St. Mary's church, was honored with a bridal shower Thursday evening, July 19, at the home of Mrs. Bennie Steinmarch, and with a personal shower held Monday evening at the home of Miss Lynda Barnes.

As the guests arrived at the Steinmarch home they placed the many lovely gifts on a table covered with a white cloth above which hung colored streamers to each corner of the table. An opened silver umbrella was the table's centerpiece.

The door prize was won by Mrs. Opal David. Two clever contests were played and prizes were won by Mrs. Helen Asbell and Mrs. Rose Garavalia. After the games Miss Humm told her guests of her future plans and then opened her gifts. For favors, each guest was presented with individual book matches in rainbow colors and each decorated with white net, silver ribbons and springs of lily-of-the-valley.

Refreshments of rainbow colored mints, nuts and strawberry sodas were enjoyed by the following guests:

Mesdames Helen Asbell, Mildred Brown, Bernice McGuire, Josephine Tonazzi, Mrs. Robert Schneider, Opal David, Noveda Wentzel, Angela Reshelter, Ann Romonosky, Rose Garavalia, Betty Harold, Ruth Hauptmann, Billie Johnson, the bride-to-be's mother, Mrs. Mary Humm, Miss Humm and the hostess, Mrs. June Steinmarch. Gifts also were received from others who could not be present.

Those attending the personal shower at the home of Miss Lynda Barnes were Edna McCue, Mary Beth Maloney, Jane Boyd Young, Linda Deitz, Cynthia Guard, Ann Funkhouser, Mary Taylor, June Riegel, Mona Wickham, Eugenia Plater, Frances Humm, Judy Belt, Jane Lasersohn, Catherine Lockwood, Linda Rude, Joan Gaskins, Charlene Booth and Barbara Barnes. Refreshments of punch and cake were served following opening of gifts by Miss Mary Anne Humm.

Mrs. Otto Arensman and her grandson, Robert Arensman, left today and plan to spend several days at Kentucky lake.

Definite plans for the wedding have not been made.

Notes from Teen Town

By Linda Rude

Hi, Gang!

Have you noticed our new pink bulletin board? Better read it every night because you'll miss out on current announcements if you don't. The decorating committee had it made and then painted it themselves.

Thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Rauh, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph T. Hollingsworth, and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Morris for chaperoning Friday and Monday nights.

The Teen Town quarterly board meeting last Thursday had almost 100 per cent attendance from 25 different organizations in town. All of us want to thank the members for being so interested in our Teen Town.

MURDER

By Brett Halliday

Copyright 1956 by Brett Halliday Distributed by NEA Service

THE STORY: A few minutes after a dead man is reported in one of the rooms of the Hibiscus hotel a woman flees from a pursuer in an alley near the hotel. She gets into a taxi. Another passenger is in the cab, but doesn't mind if the cab drops her off at the hotel where "Private Detective Michael Shayne" lives. Meanwhile, no trace of the dead man has been found in the hotel.

9:39 P. M.

THE running man slid angrily to a panting stop half a block north of the Hibiscus hotel as the taxi ahead of him gathered speed and the red tail lights grew dimmer and then disappeared around a corner.

He had seen the name of the taxi company and the car's license number.

He hesitated only a moment, then turned and strode back to the hotel behind him. Entering the lobby, empty except for the desk clerk and switchboard operator whispering together excitedly, he glanced around and went directly to a telephone booth near the door.

He looked up the street address of the taxi company he sought, made a notation of it and went out to a car parked at the curb just south of the entrance. He got in and drove to the address he had written down and found it to be a large garage with taxis filling all the parking spaces in front. He parked up the street and returned: found a large, lighted office on the ground level with drivers lounging about in front, half a dozen others seated in chairs against the wall inside.

Beyond, there was a large desk with a burly, red-faced man seated behind it talking into a telephone. Beyond him, in a cubby-hole, a thin, faded blonde was talking in a bored voice into a microphone suspended from the wall in front of her.

The lounging drivers looked at him curiously as he entered and went directly to the desk. The burly man put down the phone and called back over his shoulder, "No. 203, Gert. Pickup at 147 Brickell," and looked up to ask, "Want a taxi, Mister?"

"Not exactly." The tall man with the scarred face frowned and leaned forward with his palms flat on the desk. "How much chance is there to get in touch with the driver of one of your cabs—if I can give you his license number?"

"Not much. If you've got his name or the number of his hack—"

His telephone burred. He scooped it up and said, "Yeh?" listened a moment and said, "Right away," looked over at one of the seated drivers and said, "You better take it, Tom. The Starbright Club."

IN the meantime the man in front of the desk had gotten out his wallet. He drew out a ten, hesitated, and added another ten to it on the desk. He said, "You must have records showing the license number of each cab."

"Sure we got records," grunted the burly man. "But it's late and there's only a skeleton staff in the office." He jerked his head to the left where an open door showed two girls working at desks inside.

The man said, "It's really very important. Matter of life and death, you might say, for me to find about a fare this cab picked up near the Hibiscus hotel about 20 minutes ago." He reached for a piece of paper and wrote down the license number he had memorized.

The man at the desk shrugged and said, "That makes it easier. Hibiscus, 20 minutes ago." He pushed back his chair and went back to confer with the blonde radio dispatcher, and they consulted a chart together and he made some notations on the paper with the license number.

Then he went into the other room and gave the paper to one of the girls with brief instructions.

It was almost 10 minutes before the girl came in and put the paper in front of him. He glanced at it and said affably, "That's Archie, No. 62. That what you wanted?" His thick fingers gathered up the two $10 bills.

"I want you to get him over his radio. Find out where he took the woman he picked up in the street near the Hibiscus half an hour ago."

Blunt fingers drummed thoughtfully on the desk. "That ain't regular, Mister. You want to wait around till Archie checks in?"

"I need it now—fast," the man said impatiently. "It's my sister, see? And she's in trouble. I've got to find her in a hurry. Isn't $20 enough for a small favor?" The big man shrugged. "Go back and talk to Gertie if you want. None of my business what she puts over the mike."

THE man with the scarred face compressed his lips, picked up the paper and strode back to stand beside the dispatcher.

He asked, "Can you call Archie in No. 62 on that thing?"

"That's what it's for."

"Will you do it and ask him where he took the young lady he picked up in the street a block from the Hibiscus hotel about half an hour ago?"

"Gee, Mister. We're not supposed to send any personal messages over the radio. That's regulations."

"I've got to locate my sister." He drew in a deep breath and went on, "Well, she's in real bad trouble. Danger, maybe. Might save her life if I get to her fast."

Egyptian Health Dep't News

Dogs or biting animals suspected of having rabies should not be killed or destroyed without having been examined. The animal should be located and confined for observation. If the dog or animal is killed early in the course of the disease, the signs of rabies may not have developed in the dog's brain, which will leave the diagnosis in doubt.

If the animal can be caught, it should be locked up and kept under veterinary observation for 14 days. If the animal appears to be normal at the end of this period, there need be no fear of rabies.

If the animal is killed, or if it dies during the 14 day period of observation, the head should be packed in ice and shipped immediately to the Carbondale Branch Laboratory, Oakland and Chautauqua streets, Carbondale, Ill., with the request that it be examined for rabies. The Egyptian Health Department should be notified and will know where to ship it.

Report 'Steel Chiefs, Union Agree On Main Points

NEW YORK (U)—Steel management and union negotiators have agreed on the main outlines of a new contract, it was reported today, and the union said further progress was being made toward a final settlement of the 25-day steel strike.

Eight bargainers, four from each side, ended a two-hour bargaining session with a joint statement that progress was "continuing." Another meeting was scheduled for this afternoon.

Reliable sources said the negotiators have agreed "in principle" on new contract terms. Subcommittees worked on details Tuesday night.

State Sen. Smith Approved for Auditor Candidacy

SPRINGFIELD (U)—The Republican State Central Committee today unanimously approved State Sen. Elbert S. Smith (R-Decatur) as the GOP candidate for state auditor to replace Orville E. Hodge.

The committee met in closed session here to name Smith as a replacement for Hodge on the Republican ticket. Hodge resigned as auditor and as a candidate for re-election in the face of a million dollar fraudulent check scandal in the auditor's office.

Prince Rainier and Grace to Visit Her Parents in September

NEW YORK (U)—Prince Rainier and Princess Grace of Monaco will visit with the former movie star's parents in Ocean City, N. J., in September, it was learned today.

In addition the prince and his blonde actress wife will be frequent visitors to the Atlantic City race course, of which John B. Kelly, Grace's father, is president.

The royal couple will leave Europe Sept. 8 and will remain at the New Jersey resort until the end of the month and possibly through the first week of October. The racing meeting at the track extends from Aug. 9 to Oct. 6.

Hodge Admits Part In Raising Treasury

were cashed. Hodge identified Epping in his statement as the aide who carried the checks to the banks for cashing.

The statement was full of contradictions. Hodge was foggy on details of the alleged check scheme.

At one point he said "I did not handle the details, never had the checks in my hands, never had any vouchers in my hands."

At another point, he admitted that handwriting on 10 of the checks was his.

Hodge estimated there was a total "somewhere between $500,000 and $600,000" involved in the scheme. Contradiction asked him "You did get the money?"

"Yes sir," Hodge replied.

"It did not belong to you?" Contradiction asked.

"No, sir," Hodge said.

"It did not belong to the payees?" Contradiction asked.

"No, sir," Hodge said.

Contradiction asked what he used the money for.

"Well, I foolishly bought bad investments and I paid my expenses which were very high and I have some of the money in investments," Hodge said.

Hodge said the giant scheme started in May, 1955, when he talked to Epping "about a program for getting" some money for his political campaign.

Hodge then was talking about opposing Gov. William G. Stratton in the Republican primary this year. Later, he became a candidate for re-election as auditor in '56.

Hodge said he needed money because he never took any salary kickbacks from payrollers in his office.

At the same time, Hodge's lawyer, Arthur M. Fitzgerald, said he planned to enter a plea of innocent for Hodge at his arraignment Thursday on 46 indictments returned Tuesday by the Sangamon County grand jury.

However, Fitzgerald said he had "no idea" what Hodge's intentions were regarding a plea before Circuit Judge DeWitt S. Crow.

The 46 indictments contained 276 counts of embezzlement, forgery and operating a confidence game in connection with $637,000 in phony state checks.

Earlier Hodge was named in a 54-count federal indictment charging misapplication of about $875,000 in state money.

Girl, 4, Rescued
After Fall Into Well

RICHMOND, Ind. (U)—A 4-year-old girl was recovering at home today from a plunge to the bottom of a 25-foot well near here.

The girl, Jacqueline Rader, was rescued from the almost empty shaft after 30 minutes by a policeman who lowered himself down to her and had a clothesline around her waist.

She was treated at a hospital for shock and bruises and released.

Religion a Personal Matter, Marilyn Says of Reports

LONDON (U)—Marilyn Monroe said today that her politics and religion are nobody's business but her own.

The luscious blond movie star made her statement when told about newspaper reports that she planned to be converted to the Jewish religion.

"I never comment on religion or politics," she said. "For me religion is a personal matter."

The Daily Express said today that the blond Hollywood star planned to adopt her husband's faith on their return to the United States. The newspaper quoted an unidentified East London rabbi as its source.

U. S. STEEL RISES TO NEW HIGH FOR YEAR

NEW YORK (U)—United States Steel Corp. common stock rose to a new high for the year today as steel wage negotiations continued under circumstances seen as favorable for an early settlement of the now 25-day-old strike.

The Dow-Jones average of 65 stocks—30 industrials, 20 rails, and 15 utilities combined—set a record high at 183.28, beating the last night set on May 4 by .01 point. At its noon level the average was up 0.74 point.

Industrials were at 514.81 in their average, up 1.84, less than 7 points under the all-time high set on April 6. Rails were up 0.99 point at 172.08 and utilities at 70.61, up 0.27 were at a bull market high.

House Defeats $400 Million A- Power Program

WASHINGTON (U)—Administration forces in the House Tuesday killed the Democratic-sponsored program to speed development of commercial atomic power.

The House defeated the 400-million-dollar program 203-191 after a day debate. The Senate previously passed it.

The House first trimmed the program to the bare bones and then scuttled it altogether by voting to send the bill back to the Congressional Atomic Energy Committee.

Later after more parliamentary maneuvering the House confirmed the action by knocking the extra 400 million dollars out of an appropriation bill to run the atomic energy programs during the current 12 months.

Still pending were two other bills aimed at promoting private development of atomic power.

One would provide a government-backed insurance program to cover the devastating losses which might result in the unexpected event of an atomic "blow up." The other would exempt from the Utility Holding Company Act utilities which want to form a group to undertake atomic power projects.

The key test on the 400-million-dollar bill came when the lawmakers agreed to rip out the heart of the program—a section "directing" the Atomic Energy commission to build large-scale atomic reactors which might be copied by industry.

The administration has made it plain it did not want the authority to build the reactors and would not build them unless forced. It contended the program might delay commercial atomic power by scaring private utilities out of the field.

Divorced Wife of French Marquis Stabs Male Guest

NEW YORK (U)—The divorced wife of a French marquis stabbed with an Italian letter opener Tuesday night a male guest who lingered behind when others left a lavish party at her tapestried apartment.

Mrs. Irene De La Begasiere, 40, an ash blonde with a Titian fullness of figure, told police that William Grey, 28, lurched into the six-inch, hand carved blade.

Grey, who identified himself as the son of the Countess De Beaurepaire, charged that Mrs. De La Begasiere stabbed him.

On Grey's complaint, Mrs. De La Begasiere was arrested and booked for felonious assault.

Grey was patched up on the couch where he was led by Mrs. De La Begasiere after the wound bled his shirt and business suit. He was taken in an ambulance to Roosevelt Hospital where he was reported in "satisfactory condition."

Senate Group Approves Bill to Remove Tax From Admissions

WASHINGTON (U)—The Senate Finance Committee Tuesday approved a bill to remove the 10 per cent federal admissions tax on movie and other amusement tickets costing 90 cents or less.

The House recently voted to remove the tax on tickets of $1 and below. The Finance Committee amended the House version to the 90-cent figure. Amusement tickets costing 50 cents or less now are exempt from the admissions tax.

The committee also approved without change a House-passed bill exempting from the federal transportation tax bus and train tickets costing 60 cents or less. Tickets costing 35 cents or less now are exempt.

Receives Sentence For Deaths in Game Of Bumper Tag

CHICAGO (U)—Michael Janoski, 23, Downers Grove, Ill., was sentenced Tuesday to three six-month prison terms for reckless homicide in a game of bumper tag with his auto which took three lives.

Circuit Judge Roy J. Solisburg, DuPage County, ordered two of the sentences to be served concurrently at the Vandalia Prison Farm, meaning an overall one-year term.

Janoski was released on $7,500 bond after a stay of execution of sentence was granted pending an appeal.

Janoski was convicted of playing bumper tag Feb. 26 while racing his auto near Lisle on Route 53. Three persons killed in the accident were Jack Fleetwood, 21, Belmont, driver of the second car, and his two passengers, Muriel Fuller, 17, Lisle, and Phyllis Sweitzer, 17, Downers Grove.

Powell Calls Meeting of Demo Delegates

SPRINGFIELD (U)—State Rep. Paul Powell (D-Vienna) has called a meeting of downstate delegates and alternates to the Democratic national convention to be held here Friday.

Powell presided at another recent meeting of the delegates called by former Gov. John Stelle and ex-U. S. Sen. Scott W. Lucas. After this meeting, Stelle and Lucas issued a statement in which they said they found strong sentiment for Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) for the Democratic presidential nomination.

The statement completely ignored native son Adlai Stevenson. However, Powell said the Friday meeting "is not any anti-meeting of anyone."

Privately, Democratic leaders here expressed wonder that Powell, who is an at-large delegate with half a vote at the convention, should take it upon himself to call such a meeting.

In his letters of invitation, Powell said the meeting was called "so that the Democratic presidential candidates can be discussed, as well as the quota of tickets to the national convention for downstate officers of the committee and any other matter that can be properly discussed."

Oil Firm, Two Lawyers Indicted By Federal Jury

WASHINGTON (U)—Sen. Edward J. Thye (R-Minn.) said today the indictment of Superior Oil Co. and two lawyers should serve as a warning against "misuse of the lobbying privilege."

The oil company and lawyers Elmer Patman, Austin, Tex., and John M. Neff, Lexington, Neb., were indicted by a federal grand jury here Tuesday on charges of illegal lobbying in connection with Senate passage of the natural gas bill earlier this year.

The indictment charged that the two attorneys offered $2,500 to Sen. Francis Case (R-SD) with intent to influence his vote on the bill. The indictment said Superior Oil President Howard B. Keck gave the money to Neff and Patman "to be used principally in the passage" of the bill.

Case rejected the money, which he said was offered to him as a campaign contribution, and reported the incident to the Senate during debate on the gas bill.

Case declined comment on the grand jury's action.

That committee decided that "no bribe nor an attempt to bribe" was involved. But it criticized the two attorneys and said Keck had to share whatever blame was involved in their actions.

President Eisenhower vetoed the gas bill after it passed the Senate on the ground that a small segment of the gas and oil industry used "arrogant tactics" to promote its passage.

Court Rules Boss Should Pay for Coffee Break Time

DENVER (U)—The U. S. 10th Circuit Court of Appeals ruled Tuesday that when an employee takes a coffee break, he's doing the boss a favor.

The Appeals Court reversed a District Court decision which had held that Los Wigwam Weavers Co. in Denver did not have to pay employees for the time they spent on coffee breaks.

Coffee breaks "are beneficial to the employees" and are "equally beneficial to the employer in that they promote more efficiency and result in a greater output," the Appeals Court decision said.

Donald King is Sentenced to State Farm at Vandalia

Donald King, charged with assault with intent to commit a lewd act, was sentenced to six months on the state farm at Vandalia when he pleaded guilty to the charge in county court.

Lowell D. Taylor, arraigned before County Judge Trafton Dennis on a charge of violating the truck weight law, pleaded innocent and was released under $1,500 bond.

George Canterbury of Wilmoth Addition, arraigned this morning on a charge of violation of the garbage feeding law, pleaded innocent and was released under $500 bond. Canterbury and S. A. Overton of Eldorado were named in complaints made by Dr. S. J. Lewis and W. H. Heaton of the state department which enforces the law. Overton had not yet been arraigned.

Also not arraigned yet was William Endsley, charged with disposal of mortgaged property—a cultivator and a gas tank and rack mortgaged to the Burnett bank of Eldorado.

years. Its passage has threatened to block all housing legislation this year.

The Senate also met early to clean up minor legislation.

It handed the President a major victory Tuesday in passing 60-30 the administration-backed $4 billion foreign aid money bill. But it also dealt the President a defeat in approving a ban on nearly all future military aid to Yugoslavia.

The bill was sent to a Senate-House conference committee. The best total figure the administration will get is a compromise between the $4 billion voted by the Senate and $3.4 billion voted previously by the House.

Other legislative action:—The Senate gave final congressional approval to one of the President's major health program recommendations and sent the bill to the White House. The legislation includes grants to nursing schools and an advanced public health training program.

—The President signed a bill providing stiffer penalties for persons convicted of seditious conspiracy. The bill boosts the maximum penalty from six to 20 years imprisonment.

Bench Named Grid Coach at University High

CARBONDALE, Ill. — (Doc) Bench, former Murphysboro High School grid and cage coach, will be head football coach at the Southern Illinois University High School this fall.

Bench, who coached part-time for SIU and taught mathematics in the university school last year, will become a full-time university school faculty member, teaching math besides coaching.

He will continue as an area representative for the SIU athletic department and coach tennis at University High when facilities are available.

Ancient Archie Moore Favored In Bout Tonight

TORONTO, Ont. — Ancient Archie Moore is favored at 14-5 to win the biggest gamble of his career tonight against tall James J. Parker in a bizarre 15-round heavyweight fight that promises a record Canadian gate of $150,000.

Moore, 39, the light heavyweight champion and number one contender for the vacant heavyweight crown, is guaranteed $45,000 for the fight at Maple Leaf Baseball Stadium; but a defeat or serious ring injury would knock him out of a sure shot at the heavy crown in September.

Parker, 28, is an unranked heavy contender; but the tall Toronto blaster is a dangerous puncher who has knocked out 23 of his 37 opponents. He claims the Canadian and British empire titles.

TOSSING HER WEIGHT AROUND—Mrs. Earlene Brown may be America's answer to Russia's powerful field events women in the Olympic Games. The 21-year-old, 222-pound Los Angeles housewife and mother of a seven months old youngster holds the American record for the eight-pound shot, 48 feet 5 inches, and the discus, 136 feet 6½ inches.

Dr. Sina K. Spiker Named Assistant Professor of SIU Press

CARBONDALE, Ill. — Dr. Sina K. Spiker, newly appointed assistant professor heading the editorial section of the Southern Illinois University Press, is an author and teacher as well as an editor of university publications. Vernon Sternberg directs the SIU Press.

Miss Spiker came to SIU from the position of editor of the University of Wisconsin Press. She received her doctorate in English literature from that institution. She formerly taught on the U. of W. and in public high schools. A native of Rich Hill, Missouri, she received her bachelor's and master's degrees from the University of Iowa.

Before going to the University of Wisconsin, Miss Spiker was assistant editor of the University of North Carolina press and a historian in the U. S. Army Ground Forces historical section. Miss Spiker is author of "Indexing Your Book, a Guide for Authors," and has written articles published in various journals. Her field of special interest has been 17th century English literature, particularly English church history.

Sugar Creek, Pickford's Win Kiwanis Games

By David Nelson

Sugar Creek downed Gibbons, 12-2, and Pickford's defeated Crab Orchard, 11-6, in Kiwanis league baseball games played Tuesday.

Sugar Creek tallied nine times in a big fifth inning as it downed Gibbons, 12-2, in the first Kitty league game in the second half of Kiwanis play. Cushist pitched all the way for the winners, giving up two runs on five base hits, one error and four bases on balls. Mudge led Sugar Creek with four hits in as many trips to the plate, while Stillel picked up three safeties. Nelson and Killmer hit safely twice for Gibbons. C. Meadows took the loss.

Pickford's took off with seven runs in the first inning and were never behind as they defeated Crab Orchard, 11-6. Beggs, Pavlenis and D. Pickford combined on the mound for the winners, allowing six runs on four base hits, two errors and 11 free passes. Mocabey started for Crab Orchard and pitched the first two innings, giving up 10 runs. Pulley came in to pitch in the third and allowed only one run on one hit for the remaining four innings of the game, while striking out nine. Maynard led the winners with two base hits.

Tax Collections in Illinois for Year Total $516 Million

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. — Illinois tax collections for the fiscal year ended June 30 totaled $516,378,220, up some $82,000,000 over the previous year, the Revenue Department reported today.

Revenue Director Richard J. Lyons said the 2½ per cent sales tax collections for the period produced $267,325,903. The tax yielded $207,342,539 during the 1955 fiscal year when it was 2 per cent.

Lyons said the total taxes included $10,169,921 from the "use" tax on goods purchased outside the state for use in Illinois.

Other tax collections for the 1955-56 fiscal year included $32,524,905 for cigarette taxes; $25,774,537 from liquor revenues; $146,406,216 in motor fuel taxes, and $32,260,963 from public utility taxes.

Total tax collections for June were $47,248,917, more than $7,000,000 over June tax yields in 1955, Lyons said.

Burke Comes From Behind to Win PGA Title

CANTON, Mass. — Jackie Burke credited his putter, chipping and ability to play in the afternoon "like a good race horse coming down the stretch" for his victory over battle-scarred Ted Kroll for the PGA golf championship.

In winning it Tuesday, the curly-haired, 32-year-old Burke became the second man in history ever to win the Masters and PGA tournaments — two of the most prized titles in golf—in the same year. Only Sam Snead who was eliminated in the PGA quarter-finals by Kroll on Sunday ever did it before back in 1939.

Burke, one of the greatest putters in the game, had to come from behind to beat the 37-year-old Kroll, just as he had to fight back to whip Ed Furgol, the 1954 U. S. Open champion, in the semi-finals on Monday. Against Furgol he fought back from being five down to win out, 1 up in 37 holes.

Came From Behind

Against Kroll, he came from a three-down deficit because his putter failed him for the first 19 holes, as he missed five putts from five feet or less — one of them from 18 inches.

But then he got his putter back on good behavior and fired five birdies at Kroll in six holes to take command.

"I was trying to get Ted up," Jackie said. "For I figured if I could do that I could match him the rest of the way."

And Burke, a Marine sergeant in World War II, did just that. Once he gained his 2-up lead on the 27th hole, he matched Kroll, who was an Army sergeant in that war, stroke for stroke for seven holes before he closed him out 3 and 2 on the 37th green.

HER HERO—Young Terry Shank looks like Mickey Mantle, if she ever heard of the Yankee slugger, to his little sister, Deborah, before a Little League game at Grant Heights Field in Tokyo.

THAT MAN'S BACK—Stanley Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals has captured the National League batting championship six times and gives every indication that it is about time he tied Rogers Hornsby by making it seven. Stan The Man grips the bat near the end, uncoils from an individualistic and unorthodox stance to blast the ball savagely and on a line. The best ballplayer of the last decade loses no time getting away from the plate and around the bases.

Dodgers Blast Redlegs
The Dodgers opened a key home stand with a barrage of extra base blows that gave them a 10-5 decision over the second-place Redlegs. Sandy Amoros knocked in five runs with two triples and a double and Duke Snider hit his 22nd and 23rd homers as the Dodgers kayoed nemesis Johnny Klippstein. Sal Maglia yielded 13 hits and went the distance for his third triumph.

The Philadelphia Phillies routed Vinegar Bend Mizell in a six-run, sixth-inning rally to beat the St. Louis Cardinals, 7-3. Curt Simmons delivered a two-run double in the big rally and beat the Redbirds for the third time this season although touched for 12 hits. Catcher Andy Seminick also delivered a bases-filled single in the six-run uprising.

Roberto Clemente knocked in four runs with a homer, triple and sacrifice fly as the Pittsburgh Pirates whipped the Chicago Cubs, 6-2. Ronnie Kline picked up his ninth win although he needed help from Howie Pollet in the eighth while Bob Rush suffered his fourth loss against eight victories.

Billy Pierce became the majors' first 15-game winner of the current season and matched his 1955 victory total when the Chicago White Sox pounded out an 11-5 verdict over the American League-leading New York Yankees. Larry Doby led the White Sox' 14-hit assault with a single, double and homer that drove in four runs. Tom Sturdivant was the loser.

Indians Move Up
The Cleveland Indians crept to within 8½ games of the Yankees when they walloped the Washington Senators, 11-0. Mike Garcia pitched a three-hitter for his third shutout of the year against the Senators. Rocky Colavito drove in three runs with a triple and two singles.

Mickey Vernon's two-run, ninth-inning homer enabled the Boston Red Sox to shade the Kansas City Athletics, 3-2, for their third straight win. Relief pitcher Ike Delock received credit for his seventh win while Wally Burnette suffered his first major league defeat after two triumphs.

triples by Willie Miranda and Dick Williams paced the Baltimore Orioles to an 11-5 victory after the Detroit Tigers won the opener of the two-night doubleheader, 9-7, with the aid of homers by Al Kaline, Frank House and Charley Maxwell. The Orioles' win snapped a five-game losing skid.

White Sox Sell Hurler Consuegra
CHICAGO — The Chicago White Sox today sold pitcher Sandy Consuegra, holder of the club's best pitching percentage, to the Baltimore organization for an undisclosed sum.

The Sox announced the sale Tuesday night, but it did not become effective until today. Chicago officials said the sale does not mean Consuegra will report to the Orioles since he may be sent to one of Baltimore's farm teams.

Braves Edge Giants, 4-3, and Increase Lead; Dodgers Trip Reds; Cards Lose to Phils

"There ain't no better way to win 'em than by one run."

That's Manager Fred Haney murdering the King's English but pointing out a key reason his Milwaukee Braves today increased their National League lead to a new high of 3 1-2 games. They're winning the close ones—as demonstrated by a 16-8 record in one-run decisions compared to the Cincinnati Redlegs' 17-14 mark and the Brooklyn Dodgers' 10-11 record in them.

The Braves showed that important championship quality again Tuesday night when they rallied for two runs in the ninth to beat the New York Giants, 4-3. The Braves have won 11 of 13 games in their latest drive and six of those triumphs were by one-run margins.

Hank Aaron tripled to lead off the ninth and scored the tying run as Bobby Thomson hit into a double play. Then shortstop Johnny Logan walloped his ninth home run of the season to give southpaw Warren Spahn the tally he needed for his fourth straight win and 10th of the year. Spahn yielded a two-run homer to Dusty Rhodes in the first inning but then held the Giants in check the remainder of the way.

A Few Hints On Keeping Communication Channels Open With Your Teen-Agers

By RUTH MILLETT

In almost any book or article you read on helping your child through adolescence you will find these words: "Keep the channel of communication between you open."

This is just a high-falutin' way of saying, "Don't do anything to make your teen-ager clam up on you."

That's good advice. But how do you manage it?

Well, in this instance what you don't do is probably more important than what you do.

A few of the important don'ts are:

Don't criticize his friends. If you absolutely have to forbid him to run around with a certain friend because the friend is really a bad influence, do it. But don't just pick his friends to pieces, finding fault with one's manners, another's dress, or another's lack of parental control.

Don't make derogatory remarks about teen-agers in general. You would be surprised how many teen-agers today think that grownups don't understand or even like them.

DON'T DEPRECIATE AND DON'T SNOOP

Don't ridicule teen-age fads. They may seem silly to you, but you probably went in for just as crazy fads when you were growing up. And even if you didn't, following fads is important to your teen-ager.

Don't keep harping on how you did this and that when you were a kid. That's ancient history to your child though it may seem like yesterday to you. It's his teen-age years your child is living, not yours.

Don't snoop into your child's private life. It is quite one thing to make sure that you know his friends, know where he is going when he leaves home and quite another to read his mail, listen in on his telephone conversations, and make a habit of checking up on him to see if he is telling you the truth.

You can keep Junior from clamming up on you if you will just treat him like a respected, trusted, and dependable member of the family.

New Camera Tough Enough for Missiles

CHICAGO — (AP) — A new, tough missile-riding 16 mm. camera has been developed by the Wollensak Optical Company, Rochester, N. Y.

Designed to record the flight characteristics of guided missiles, the camera, trade-named Fastair, was developed primarily for the Lockheed Aircraft Co., to test newly designed guided missiles.

Fastair will help Lockheed engineers determine whether the missile is on target or not, and if not, why it failed and what part was defective.

Hospitality on the Highway!

● Having the inside of your car swept out is one of those extra little gestures of hospitality that you can expect when you drive in to a Phillips 66 Station.

You'll like the friendliness and courtesy of your Phillips 66 Dealer. You'll like the conscientious way he cleans your windows all the way around. You'll like his clean rest rooms. You'll appreciate the way he checks your tires, battery and radiator. To Phillips 66 Dealers, "Hospitality on the Highway" means much more than just selling gasoline and motor oil. It means pleasing you.

Your Phillips 66 Dealer believes that in the service he gives, as well as in the products he sells, "It's Performance that Counts." Drive in to his station soon.

TOP TALENT, SHOWS FOR SALINE FAIR

NEW FLORAL HALL AT SALINE COUNTY FAIRGROUNDS. The latest in many physical improvements at the Saline County Fairgrounds is the new concrete and block floral hall building. The old, frame construction floral hall building, completed about 1910, has been torn away. The new floral hall, near the east end of the grandstand, is 80 feet long and 28 feet wide. It is constructed of concrete blocks, has a concrete floor and concrete porch completely across the front. Other improvements made at the Saline County Fair in the past few years include the spacious grandstand, sanitary toilets and a concrete floor, available to the teen agers to use for dancing.

Premiums at County Fair Total $24,744

Premiums totaling $24,744.00 will be offered by the Saline County Agriculture Association during the 50th annual Saline County Fair which starts Sunday, July 29, and continues through Friday, Aug. 3.

The premium money will be divided among the winning exhibitors in the following classes: Beef and dual purpose cattle, dairy cattle, heavy horses, sheep, swine, agricultural products, floriculture, textiles and fine arts, culinary, junior department, Border Collie Sheep Dog trials and light horses.

The largest amount, $7,950.00, is offered in the dairy cattle classes. Stanley Wilson, Jr., is superintendent of this department. Premiums are offered to exhibitors of Ayrshires, Guernseys, Holsteins, Jerseys and Brown Swiss. A trophy will be awarded to the champion dairy cow.

The second largest premium, $6,360.00, is offered in the beef and dual purpose cattle classes. Lawrence Smith is superintendent of this department and premiums are offered to exhibitors of Herefords (horned or polled), Aberdeen Angus, Shorthorns and Red Polled. A trophy will be awarded to the champion beef cow.

Other departments, their superintendents and the amounts offered in premiums:

Heavy horses, Bob Mugge, $1,350.00;
Sheep, John Endsley, Sr., $1,440.00;

Swine, John Endsley, Sr., $1,800.00;

Agricultural products, Edwin J. Thompson, $351.00;

Floriculture, Mrs. Carl Rude, $204.00;

Textiles and fine arts, Mrs. Russell Malan, $888.00;

Culinary, Mrs. E. Bishop Hill, $165.00;

Junior department, Mrs. Olan C. Hancock, $188.00;

Border Collie Sheep Dogs, $1,368.00;

Light horses, Arnold Stafford, $2,670.00. In this class there will be Western show horses and Shetland ponies. This will be the first year a Shetland pony class has been shown at the Saline County Fair.

All entries in each department, except light horses, will close at 5 p. m., Monday, July 30. All livestock and horse show entries will be made at the grandstand office. All other entries will be made at the floral hall.

Flowers, fresh vegetables and all animals, except those in the Light Horse department, must be in place prior to 10 a. m., Tuesday, July 31. All other exhibits must be in place prior to 5 p. m., Monday, July 30.

All articles for exhibit must be delivered in person to the fairgrounds. None shipped by mail will be accepted.

16 Local Persons Provide Leadership For County Fair

The Saline County Fair is made possible each year through the leadership provided by the members of the Saline County Agriculture Association and the cooperation of the general public.

Sixteen local people comprise the membership of the association, a not-for-profit corporation. Most of the sixteen Harrisburg persons were in the group who back in 1946 formed an association to back the Saline County Fair and make it one of the finest county fairs in southeastern Illinois.

George Barnes, Harrisburg businessman, is president of the Saline County Agriculture Association and a director. Others who are officers and directors are: Victor Mitchell, vice president; John W. Towle, treasurer. Mr. George E. Johnson is secretary.

Other directors are Daisy M. Seright, Paul Endicott, B. W. Moore, Stanley Wilson, Jr., Thorai Gaskins, V. V. Brown, Robert Mugge, Hudson Mugge, Hugh Walker, W. B. Westbrook, C. E. Taylor, Bruce Polk, and L. M. Hancock.

Livestock superintendent is Robert Mugge. Mrs. George D. Barnes is floral hall superintendent; Victor Mitchell is in charge of placement of livestock and also has charge of concessions; John W. Towle is in charge of reserved seats and the grandstand; Thorai Gaskins is superintendent of the gate and parking.

Border Collie Sheep Dogs at Fair August 2

Border Collie sheep dogs, popular with patrons of the Saline County Fair in past years, will return to the 1956 Saline County Fair and will be featured on the afternoon program, Thursday, Aug. 2.

The most striking characteristic of the border collie sheep dog is the one that shepherds refer to as the "eye," or the power of the dog to control his sheep with his eye. No other breeds of dogs possess it. Every clever Border Collie is born with this power and uses it constantly. Dogs in which the power has not been sufficiently developed dare spoken of as being "loose eyed," which is the way of saying that they lack the power of concentration required for efficient work.

Border Collies have been worked on exhibition at many of the larger livestock shows across the nation and trials are becoming more popular every day.

From a breeding point of view, trials afford the only means by which the working merits of the dog can be publicly ascertained.

Saline County Fair patrons will see the dogs working at different phases as the trials will be scored on types of every day work, such as gathering, penning, driving and shedding. Shedding is the work used when a dog cuts one or more sheep from the flock and takes it away.

Beauty Contest, Antique Auto Show to Highlight Fair Aug. 2

One of the most outstanding and colorful events at the Saline County Fair these past several years has always been the Saline County Beauty Pageant sponsored by the Harrisburg Junior Chamber of Commerce, which takes place this year on Thursday night, Aug. 2, starting at 8 p. m.

A bevy of good-looking females is always an interesting sight, and the added excitement of competing for the title of Miss Saline County adds just that much more to the entertainment. The Jaycees select the "cream of the crop" of young Saline county misses, each of whom is sponsored by a prominent Saline county business firm, and then the girls promenade before unbiased, out-of-town judges, who make their selection on the basis of the girls' poise, personality, physique, features, and posture in formal and in bathing suits. The excitement and suspense reach a fever pitch as the judges' totals are added up, and then the winner is announced and crowned Miss Saline County.

In past years, during the interval while the girls are changing from formal to bathing suits, the Jaycees have presented a showing of new automobiles from Saline county dealers, but this year something new has been added to take the place of the new car show. For the first time, the crowd will be entertained by a parade of antique automobiles, owned by collectors from southern Illinois and Indiana, and a real spectacle is guaranteed. The old cars, including many which will be unfamiliar to most of the younger set, are carefully, and with loving care and many hours of tedious labor, restored to their original shining newness by their owners, who will appear in costumes of the times as they drive the cars down the track in front of the grandstand. A narrator will provide a brief description of each car as it appears before the crowd.

Saline County girls who have entered the contest so far are as follows:

Barbara Alvey, Jane Capel, Sue Cox, Edna Henshaw, Suzanne Kihl-mire, Retha Lane, Sandra Lasseter, Marda Shingler, Janice Stiff, Joy Taylor, Collette Waverling, Linda Gee, Becky McDowell, Brenda Heatherly, and Marlene Cotton, all of Harrisburg; Carolyn Anderson, Brenda Starkey, and Donna Eubanks, Galatia; Pat Elder, Judy Lanham, Linda Sontra, and Myra Cox, Eldorado; Shirley Pyle, Carrier Mills; and Beverly Bishop, Raleigh.

Last year's queen, Miss Janice Harrowood of Carrier Mills, will be on hand to crown the winner.

2 Performances Of Thrill Show At Fair Opening

The Saline County Fair will open Sunday, July 29, with a thrill show by automobiles and motorcycles the feature event of the afternoon and evening sessions, on that date.

Using a fleet of gleaming white 1956 model cars, with the outstanding daredevil drivers of both the U. S. and Canada behind the wheels, the Congress of Canadian Dare Devils will stage an exhibition of thrilling events at the fair opening.

Featured in the 28-event program will be pyramid motorcycle riding, complete with acrobatics while riding one, two and even three men high. This part of the show is performed by the "Montreal Motorbatics," headed by Herri LaFave, former member of the Canadian Mounted Police motorcycle team.

The actual shooting of a new convertible car from the mouth of the world's largest cannon to a landing ramp 80 feet away, will top off such stunts as the crash roll-overs, the Robinson side-whacker crash, slide for life, motorcycle polo and the precision driving feats of skill.

Traveling with the death-defiers are the LaMerineau Brothers, clowns, who attempt, with hilarious results, to duplicate the stunts performed by the daredevils. "Thunderbolt" Jimmy Curry, flying through the air, and Jack Darbyson on the ground, perform the thrilling "Cannon Shot." This feature is the climax and feature attraction of the thrill show. The giant cannon weighs 10 tons and is built of steel.

All 4-H club members in Saline County have been invited to participate in the Saline County Fair. The 4-H Economics clubs will have clothing judged July 27 in the city hall and the annual Dress Revue and foods demonstration will be held that evening at 7:30 in the basement of the First Christian church, Mary Harper, home adviser, has announced. All clothing will be taken to the floral hall at the fairgrounds Monday, July 30, and remain on display throughout Fair Week.

On Tuesday, July 31, members of the boys' 4-H clubs will show their cattle, swine and poultry. All 4-H animals are to be entered at the fairgrounds Monday, July 30.

There will be two judges for the home economics display — Mrs. Jean Welborn, home adviser in White county, and Miss Ruth Grant, home adviser in Williamson county.

Lonzo and Oscar Show Feature At Fair July 30

Other Grand Ole Opry Stars On 2-Hour Program

One of the most versatile shows in the entertainment world, the Lonzo and Oscar Show, is scheduled to appear the second night of the Saline County Fair, Monday, July 30.

Lonzo and Oscar, stars of radio from coast to coast with WSM Grand Ole Opry, have four people in their own act and a total of twelve entertainers will appear in the two-hour show.

Listed to appear on the stage in front of the Saline County Fair grandstand along with Lonzo and Oscar are Judy Lynn, Miss Idaho of 1955; Rodeo Dot and Smokey, MGM recording artists; Pat Kelly, popular soloist; the Wilburn Brothers, Teddy and Doyle, Decca recording artists and others.

Lonzo and Oscar have been with Grand Ole Opry for the past eight years. They started their career as a comedy act in 1944 with Eddy Arnold and in 1945 they did their first appearance as a team. Even though there have been discouragements and disappointments for the boys, they have grown to be the top comedy team on the Opry.

During the past year Lonzo and Oscar have toured forty weeks in cities through the United States and Canada, working hard to keep their fans laughing.

They now have 24 phonograph records on sale at record shops and each year they appear as guest artists on top NBC and CBS TV network shows. They have appeared on the Kate Smith Show and Ed Sullivan's "Toast of the Town."

By popular demand Lonzo and Oscar were called to do a return engagement on the Kate Smith Show.

Lonzo and Oscar are brothers and are from Edmonton, Ky. Both are married, with Lonzo boasting two sons and Oscar has a daughter.

The boys are accomplished musicians, Lonzo playing guitar and Oscar the mandolin. Their hobbies are fishing, hunting and meeting their fans.

Champion Girl Yodeler

Judy Lynn, Miss Idaho of 1955, is America's champion girl yodeler and plays a terrific hoe down fiddle.

She has been on Red Foley's Ozark Jubilee, the Pee Wee King show and others.

At the age of ten Judy began singing for civic clubs and at rodeos near her home town of Boise, Idaho. She now is 19 years of age.

In 1952 she was crowned Queen of the Big Snake River Stampede where she was in a show with Gene Autry. The next year she starred with Rex Allen in the same rodeo.

As "Miss Idaho," Judy competed for the title of Miss America last September in Atlantic City.

Two years ago the Wilburn Brothers, Teddy and Doyle, took the country music world by storm when they started recording for Decca Records. In 1954 Down Beat Magazine released that the boys had been named No. 1 Best New Small Unit in a poll and in 1955 Teddy and Doyle swept almost all polls as the best, or as the most up-coming vocal combination of the year in country music.

One thing the public seems to like about these boys is their "clean cutness" and that they wear some of the most beautiful, colorful uniforms that can be found worn on the stage.

Some of the better known recordings by Teddy and Doyle are "Let Me Be the First to Know," "Carefree Moments," "Temptation," "Go Away" and "Deep Elem Blues."

Pat Kelly, best known for his singing of "Blue Suede Shoes" and "Heart Break Hotel" and Rodeo Dot and Smokey, MGM recording artists, and others will be on hand Monday, July 30, to entertain the crowd attending the Saline County Fair.

Two Special Days For Kids at Fair

There will be two special days for the kids during the coming Saline County Fair, which will run from Sunday, July 29 to Friday, Aug. 3.

Tuesday, July 31, will be the first Kids' Day of the fair. Until 5 p. m. that day there will be free admission at the gate and all carnival rides will be ten cents each.

Another Kids' Day will be held Thursday, Aug. 2.

LONZO AND OSCAR, who will appear at the Saline County Fair July 30, along with other Grand Ole Opry stars and favorites.

Lions to Operate Concession Stand

The Harrisburg Lions club will again operate the grandstand concession stand at the Saline County Fair.

A new concession stand has been built under the east end of the grandstand and the Lions will sell food and soft drinks there and also in the grandstand.

This will be the third consecutive year the Lions have had the grandstand concessions at the Saline County Fair.

All proceeds are used for projects of civic interest and welfare.

Western Horse Show July 31; Society, Aug. 1

Horses will hold the spotlight two sessions of the Saline County Fair, which starts July 29 and continues through Aug. 3.

The annual Western Horse Show will be staged Tuesday, July 31, and the Society Horse show is scheduled for the following night, Wednesday, Aug. 1.

Each of these two evenings, following the horse shows, "Steele's Frontier Days" show will be staged, featuring 25 beautiful horses.

In the group of fine horses with the Frontier Days show are Arabian high jumping horses, Liberty horses and mules.

There will be six classes in the Western Horse show—Western Equitation, Western Parade, Western pony under 52 inches, Western pairs, Western flag race and Western square race.

Six classes also are listed for the Society Horse show—3 gaited, open; 5-gaited, open; Tennessee walking mare; Tennessee walking stallion or gelding; Show pony, single; Hackney pony, single.

Trophies will be awarded first place winners and premiums will be paid as follows—First, $35; second, $30; third, $25; fourth, $20; fifth, $18; sixth, $17; seventh, $15.

Arnold Stafford is superintendent of the light horses department of the Saline County Fair.

RODEO DOT AND SMOKEY, MGM recording artists who will appear on the Lonzo and Oscar show at the Saline County Fair on July 30.

Eight Sessions Will Be Held July 29-Aug. 3

Thrill Shows to Open Fair; Livestock Judging on Tuesday

Entertainment galore is in store for patrons of the 50th annual Saline County Fair, which starts Sunday, July 29, and continues through Friday, Aug. 3.

To make the 50th annual Saline County Fair the biggest and best in history, members of the Board have lined up top-notch talent for eight entertaining and action packed sessions.

A look at the program reveals a variety of fine shows that will provide fun for everyone.

Big shows in front of the spacious grandstand will be staged six nights and two afternoons. There will be shows each night, Sunday, July 31, through Friday, Aug. 3, inclusive. Also during Fair Week there will be shows on Sunday and Thursday afternoons.

Getting the fair underway will be a thrill show, featuring the Congress of Canadian Daredevils. The thrill shows have been so popular with Saline County Fair goers in the past that there will be two sessions of the thrill show this year. The daredevils will perform Sunday afternoon and again Sunday evening.

This is the tenth international tour of this great array of daredevils that go racing, crashing, smashing around the track, using a fleet of 1956 automobiles and motorcycles.

The Canadian Daredevils stage a 20-act show, with the climax to the thrills the shooting of a 1956 convertible automobile from the mouth of the world's largest cannon 85 feet through space.

Monday morning and afternoon will be devoted to entries, with all entries to be made by 5 p. m., with the exception of entries for the Western and Society Horse shows.

Monday evening the Grand Ole Opry show will be staged, featuring Lonzo and Oscar with Judy Lynn, the Wilburn Brothers, Rodeo Dot and Smokey, Pat Kelly and others.

Livestock Judging Tuesday

Lonzo and Oscar, the top comedy team on the Grand Ole Opry, have a clean, fast moving show that can entertain any type of audience. The show has been extremely popular on the fair circuit.

Livestock will be judged Tuesday. This also has been designated as Kids' Day, with free admission at the gate and ten-cent carnival rides until 5 p. m.

Tuesday night the Saline County Fair audience will witness the always popular and colorful Western Horse show and also see a brand new feature for local fair fans.

Steele's Frontier Days, featuring 25 western and circus acts, with Arabian high jumping horses, chuck wagon races and Roman chariot races to provide plenty of thrills.

Steele's Frontier Days, with scenes from the old West, will also show again Wednesday evening, preceded by the Society Horse show.

There will be six classes in the Society Horse show—3-gaited, open; 5-gaited, open; Tennessee walking mare; Tennessee walking stallion or gelding; Show pony, single; Hackney pony, single.

There will be shows both Thursday afternoon and night. During the afternoon there will be the Border Collie Sheep Dog Trials.

Thursday night, the most popular event of the Saline County Fair for the past seven years, the Saline County Beauty contest, will be staged.

On this night, eighteen or more of Saline County's loveliest young ladies will compete for the title of Miss Saline County. The winner will be crowned by Miss Janice Harrowood of Carrier Mills, Queen of the 1955 Saline County Fair.

The annual Saline County Beauty contest is sponsored by the Harrisburg Jaycees and the contestants are sponsored by various businesses and organizations in the county.

In conjunction with the Beauty contest the Jaycees will sponsor an antique automobile show. Vehicles from the various antique automobile clubs in the area will be on display that evening.

And on Friday night the 50th annual Saline County Fair will come to a roaring close with big car racing.

The racing program, featuring speedway-type big racing cars, is sanctioned by the Mississippi Valley Championship Circuit of Racing.

SALINE COUNTY

CHAMPIONSHIP RACING PROGRAM AT THE SALINE COUNTY FAIR FRIDAY NIGHT, AUGUST 3rd

Vic Watson, 1954 and 1955 Big Car Champion of the Mississippi Valley Championship Circuit of Racing has entered the seven event program at the Saline County Fair for Friday night, August 3.

Vic, who is from Chicago, will drive a GMC powered racer which has won more feature events than any other car in the circuit during the past two years. Already this year Vic has worked his way into fourth in the point standings after a string of bad luck at early races. It now appears he has found the groove and will make the running hot for point leader Rocky Williams of Peoria. However, Williams too has credit for two annual victories and will give the younger Watson a hard and fast way to go before the 1956 Champion has been named.

A seven event Championship Big Car Auto Racing Program will be the featured speed attraction at the Saline County Fairgrounds, Harrisburg, Illinois on Friday night, August 3. Following the time trials at 7:00 P. M., the "Presentation Handicap" race will be run. Next two elimination races feature the "Hub to Hub Sprint" and "The Detroit Motors Pursuit." The first race is intended to introduce to the crowd the famous drivers entered and the second race commemorates the close competition of the Mississippi Valley Championship Circuit. The third features a battle between the modern day powerful Detroit type racing conversion engines and the long proved race track Offenhauser, Hal, Dreyer, and Riely type engines. Fourth event is the "Flagman's Specialty Event," which gives the best performing drivers a chance to test their skills on the track against the other fast cars. Two feature races are then held. The Mississippi Valley Sweepstakes and the Speedway Sweepstakes. The latter will start a minimum of twelve cars and more if the field exceeds twenty-five cars. In all more than twenty cars are expected to file their entries for the top cash prizes offered.

7 BIG EVENTS 20 CARS!

MISSISSIPPI VALLEY CHAMPIONSHIP CIRCUIT!

TOP DRIVER ENTERED

Rocky Williams, Big Car Champion of the Mississippi Valley Championship Circuit and Duke Hindahl of Peoria, Illinois are just two of the large field of cars and drivers expected for the seven thrilling events of Speedway Type big car auto races at the Saline County Fair, Harrisburg, Illinois on Friday, August 3. The races will feature reverse type starts and will be run on the fast and brilliantly lit half mile track at the Fairgrounds.

Featuring some of America's Finest Trained Horses and Novelty Circus acts; with 25 beautiful horses; 25 people; and 25 very unusual displays; Cowboys, Cowgirls, Indians, Circus Acts, Stage Acts, Rodeo Acts and Aerial Acts. Riding and Roping and Whip Cracking, Sharpshooting, Trained Dogs, Funny Clowns, Comedy Mules, Arabian High Jumping Horses, Trick and Fancy Riding, Liberty Horses, Bow and Arrow Shooting, Indian Songs and Dances, and the craziest Comedy Ford of all times. The entire show is climaxed to perfection by the Master of the Keyboard on the Hammond Electric Organ. It has gained the reputation as America's Number One Grandstand Attraction, because it has given such wonderful satisfaction to the public. Today it has more Fair contracts than any other attraction in the Fair business. Through the Winter months this same show does business in Cuba, Mexico and South America. Early Spring and Late Fall through the Dominion of British Columbia to Nova Scotia. Many of the individual acts from this show are sent to London, England, Copenhagen, Denmark, for Circus and Theatre engagements during the Holidays. The demand for this show has become increasingly heavier each year, until it has been difficult to arrange dates. This has forced some of the booking to be done from one, to as much as two years in advance, for certain engagements. As stated by one of the Major Fair committees in the Midwest—"The quality of the acts was far better than we could expect for twice the money — Our public was amazed." Thousands of similar letters, telegrams and phone calls give proof of the same satisfaction and results produced by this unusual show.
